With each issue, we strive to publish a diverse array of high-quality original research papers that contribute to the intellectual landscape in different fields of knowledge. We invite researchers, academicians, scholars, students and practitioners to submit their original research papers for consideration in our upcoming edition for the month of April 2023 to September 2023, Vol 6, No. 1. Our journal covers a wide range of disciplines under the broad theme of "Socio-Economic, Political, Literary and Environmental Issues and Challenges".
